

Lars Bräutigam

After graduating at Karolinska Institutet in Sweden, I have been working in different research areas using the zebrafish as animal model. Since 2018, I have been heading the zebrafish core facility at Karolinska Institutet and provide with a team of 6 staff zebrafish husbandry services and management of complex research projects for internal and external customers. Besides, I am the chairman of the animal welfare body at Karolinska Institutet and ordinary member of the Swedish National committee for the protection of animals used in research.
