

Dr. Kamar Ameen-Ali

Kamar is a senior lecturer in biomedical science in the School of Health and Life Sciences, Teesside University, UK. Kamar's research is focused on how neuroinflammation drives the progression of neurodegenerative diseases which lead to dementia, and also the ethical use of animals in scientific research.